Budget Fails to Aid Island Coal Mines

SMALL SUBSIDY NO USE AT ALL SAYS OFFICIAL

Unprofitable to Continue New South American Market With 25-cent Allowance; Increase Duty Will Force Harder Battle in Seattle and Washington Cities; Deplores Premier Tolmie's Lack of Support for Island Mines, Compared With Interest in Crow's Nest Pass

Complaining of lack of support from the Provincial Government in presenting the case to Ottawa, Col. C. W. Villiers, head of the Canadian Collieries and Western Fuel Corporation, Vancouver Island coal interests, said the coal subsidies and duties imposed in the Bennett budget would be no use at all to the Island operators.

"They have given us a twenty-five cent subsidy. That is no use at all. We asked for $1.00, and we had the 1 cent quite certain we could induce more coal burning steamers to come here, and could do a good business in the South American domestic market," he said.

NEW MARKET UNPROFITABLE
The Island collieries had shipped to South America at a heavy loss to demonstrate this trade could be developed if a subsidy was given, Col. Villiers said. On June 15, 1,000 tons would be shipped to Peru, but with the twenty-five cent subsidy now decided it would be impossible to enter into any contracts there as it would be unprofitable to continue.

The increase of the duty on foreign coal would injure rather than help the Island operators, he added. It was of a reciprocal nature, and as far as they were concerned, would mean a harder battle on the Seattle and State of Washington markets.

The budget increases the duty from fifty to seventy-five cents per ton. Col. Villiers took occasion to refer to what he termed unfairness in the coal situation here at the present time. U.S. coal coming into Vancouver entered duty free. Although it was classified in Washington as sub-bituminous coal and subject to duty, customs officers in B.C. classed it as lignite, which is duty free.

"We have had it analyzed by leading chemists in Vancouver and proved it was not," he said.

NO SUPPORT FROM TOLMIE
Col. Villiers complained that as far as the coal situation was concerned, his firm, the largest operators in Canada, was like a voice crying in the wilderness. It had received no support from the Premier of B.C. as had Collieries Nova Scotia and Alberta. The Premier of both these provinces had taken the case right to Ottawa.

"If we had more active support given our collieries by the Premier of B.C., as given to the other collieries we should have met with more success," he said, pointing to disparagement between the help given to Crow's Nest and maritime coal, which were receiving subsidies ranging over $1 per ton, and that received by the Island interests.

PANTAGES HAS POLICE OUT ON HUNT FOR MAN
San Francisco, June 2.—Police to-day were searching for John Segalos, Carnegie Medalist, on complaint of Alexander Pantagos, millionaire showman. Pantagos, through his attorneys, informed police here he had received many letters from Segalos threatening him.

In letters given police, Segalos accuses Pantagos of having caused him to lose $100,000 on a vaudeville deal some years ago.

Segalos was given the Carnegie Medal in connection with the sinking of the steamship Valencia off Vancouver Island in 1900, when he was credited with saving many lives.

Drought Bringing Crop Crisis Now On Prairies

Ottawa, June 2.—The grain crops of practically the entire prairie region of normally heavy production are in critical condition as a result of severe and prolonged drought, says a report issued here to-day by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Combined with greatly reduced precipitation, serious damage has been caused by high winds, frost and cut worms. Germination of early sown grain was generally good but high winds and frost caused later setbacks.

Winnipeg, June 2.—Drought threatens many large areas in Saskatchewan and Alberta, in the great crop-growing districts of the central and southern regions, but the situation is not yet hopeless. Conditions in Manitoba are de-

SIDNEY MILL FIRE PUT OUT

Blaze Which Threatened Big Island Plant Checked With Small Damage

Scarcity of Water Menace; One Fire-fighter Overcome; Another Hurt

Fire, which started in the boiler room of the Sidney Lumber Mill at 11.40 o'clock this morning and for a time threatened to raze the $250,000 plant, owing to the scarcity of water, was put out within an hour with only the boiler room damaged. Prompt work by the fire fighting crew of the mill and a volunteer squad from Sidney was responsible for the loss being kept to about $1,000. It was covered by insurance.

Scarcity of water caused grave concern when the flames were noticed in the boiler room, but through the fast work of the firemen, who started work on an auxiliary pump, the blaze was checked before it reached the remainder of the plant and stores of lumber. In the vicinity of the mill, the community, the blaze caused anxiety.

RENDERED UNCONSCIOUS
Herman Lind, one of the fire fighters, was rendered unconscious by the smoke, but recovered later. Another man suffered injuries to his hand.

The fire engine stationed at Royal Oak was rushed to the mill, but the flames had been brought under control before it arrived.

All workers at the mill, numbering in the neighborhood of 120, turned out to battle the blaze. During the early part of the year they had been schooled in fire drill which aided them in bringing the flames under control.

LARGE STOCK OF LUMBER
The Sidney mill is one of the few operating on the Island. It has continued work on a reduced scale since lumber prices ceased and has stored the cut wood on the grounds. Efforts had been made recently to secure more storage space.

U.S. Grain Exports Are Reported

Washington, June 2.—Grain exports last week from the United States amounted to 661,000 bushels, against 666,000 bushels the week before, Commerce Department figures to-day gave the following comparisons between last week's exports and those of the week before.

Canadian grain exported last week from United States Atlantic ports amounted to 1,409,000 bushels against 1,521,000 bushels, while last week's exports of North American wheat flour were 56,000 barrels, against 342,000 barrels the previous week.

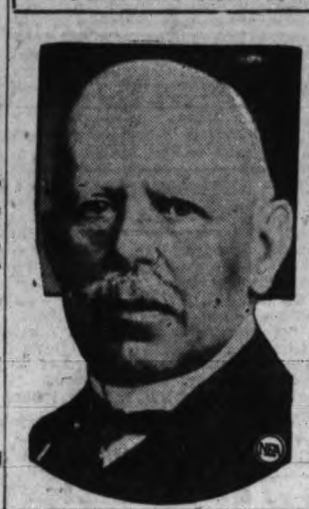

described as generally fair, but general rain would be welcome throughout all sections of the prairies.

Good June rains would change the whole picture, commented one crop expert here to-day. He declared it was too early to talk of crop abundance, declaring soaking moisture within the next few weeks would bring at least fair crops in districts where to-day the drought threatens total loss.

NORTH FARMERS BEST
The districts hardest hit by the lack of moisture are in central and southern Saskatchewan and central Alberta. In the northern areas of these provinces there is a little reserve moisture, though still less is needed.

Agriculturists to-day surveyed a cloudless sky with the weather man, in his daily forecast, holding out no immediate relief from the high temperatures and warm prairie winds.

Manufacturers Told Need For Stringent Government Economy

Convention Here Will Be Asked to Support Resolution Calling for Cuts in Expenditures, Salary Reductions and Careful Study of Conditions; Cost of Government High; One Per Cent Tax Collection Troublesome to Producers

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in convention here, will consider a resolution calling on dominion, provincial and municipal governments to practice economy to the utmost, with stress on the need for reduction of salaries.

This was decided at this morning's session when a motion instructing the resolutions committee to draft such a measure was passed.

The subject was raised when Hon. E. J. Davis, Newmarket, Ontario, a former member of the Ontario Government, raised a voice of protest against the high cost of government in Canada.

WANTS RESOLUTION PASSED
He urged the convention to pass resolutions and start an active propaganda to have all governments cut expenses by reducing salaries and get down to a reasonable basis of expenditure for conditions as they now are.

Mr. Davis quoted the difference between indemnities for legislative members at the time when he was a member and at present.

SEKS REMUNERATION
In the discussion, prompted by the report of the legislation committee of the association, James Parfitt of Victoria said he thought British Columbia manufacturers had a right to protest against the work imposed on them by the government in collecting the 1 per cent super tax. They should receive remuneration for their work in this regard, he said.

PREMIER SILENT ON CONVENTION

Makes No Reference to Burning Subject at Women's Conservative Meeting

Silence of Premier Tolmie on the burning question of a Conservative convention on which many resolutions have been passed, was noted at the meeting in the Campbell Building arranged by the Women's Conservative Association yesterday evening. While Premier Tolmie took note of the troubles in the party ranks to tell malcontents to state clearly where they stood and to either work with the party or get out of it, he made no reference to the demand for a convention.

While remarks credited to the Premier indicate he may have included a reference to the convention in notes which he used during his speech, he either refrained from referring to or overlooked the much discussed subject during his speech yesterday evening.

Soldier Settlement Bill Is Approved

Ottawa, June 2.—The Senate gave to a bill amending the Soldier Settlement Act, the bill curtails the cost of administration of the soldier settlement board and provides for one head in place of three commissioners.

NEW TAX ON YACHT SALES

Ottawa, June 2.—Boats, yachts, and motor boats, when sold, will bear an excise tax of five per cent. If one of the Bennett budget clauses is approved by Parliament. The tax, however, will not apply to such craft when satisfactory proof is adduced they will be used for trading or commercial purposes exclusively. This exemption will not be applicable to these goods when sold to boat livers or other persons for hire or rental.

CROWD AT TRIAL

London, June 2.—Lord Kylsat, chairman of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, appeared in the historic Guildhall to-day to answer charges that he issued false financial statements concerning the company's condition. The courtroom was crowded.

Harold Morland, chartered accountant, was charged with aiding and abetting the issuance of the statements. The shipping magnate was also accused of a similar offence in connection with the broadcasting of a prospectus on the company in June, 1928.

BIG PUBLISHER NOW REJECTING CANADA ORDERS

New Duty on Magazines Ends Subscription Business For College Students

Retail News Dealers Fear Losses on Unsold Papers; Property Owners Concerned

The Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia will refuse to accept subscriptions from Canada for magazines. Canadian agents this morning received telegraphic instructions to discontinue activities, in view of the prohibitive character of the new Canadian duty on magazines, announced yesterday afternoon by Premier Bennett in his budget speech.

Cessation of subscription business in Canada is expected to be ordered by other leading United States publishers and several hundred subscription workers, including many college students, will be deprived of seasonal and permanent employment.

The larger women's and business magazines weigh upwards of one pound each and one popular weekly frequently approaches a pound an issue in weight. Leading retail magazine distributors expect the new duty will increase many ten-cent magazines to about forty cents a copy.

SERIOUS BLOW
H. Lovick, magazine wholesaler here, this morning stated: "This is very serious, even if the new duty is only in magazines affected by the new duty. On many magazines there is no refund for unsold copies. Dealers will not want to have many popular ten-cent magazines left on their hands when each one means fifteen cents paid in duty, in addition to the average wholesale cost of seven cents."

Frank LeRoy, veteran wholesale news distributor of Victoria, doubted the accuracy of reports from Ottawa as to the amount of duty which will be imposed on magazine readers.

"It is a serious blow to news dealers, but we must wait and see what is really intended," he said.

Real estate agents handling downtown property fear the new duty will force termination of tenancy of a number of locations now rented at profitable prices.

THOUSANDS AFFECTED
Calgary, June 2.—Gathering at a hurried meeting, news dealers of Calgary yesterday evening sent a telegram protesting against the new magazine tariffs in the Bennett budget to Dr. G. D. Stanley, M.P. for East Calgary.

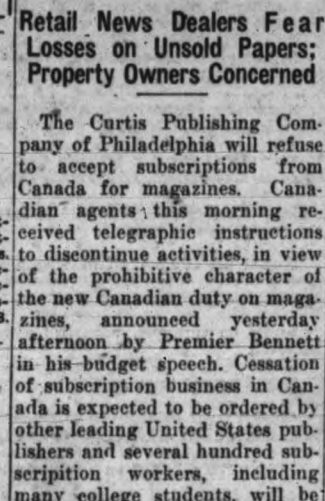

"Thousands of news dealers throughout Canada will be thrown out of employment if the tariff on foreign magazines of fifteen cents a pound is as it sounds," declared A. Bushelkin, spokesman for the dealers, to-day.

He declared one popular magazine now selling at ten cents would sell for forty-five cents and similar increases would prevail in all other magazines.

The worst of it, said Mr. Bushelkin, was that ninety-nine per cent of the magazines which news dealers were of the type that were very unlikely to be produced in Canada.

Men Who Were Executives of Stimson Bond Company Sentenced in Toronto

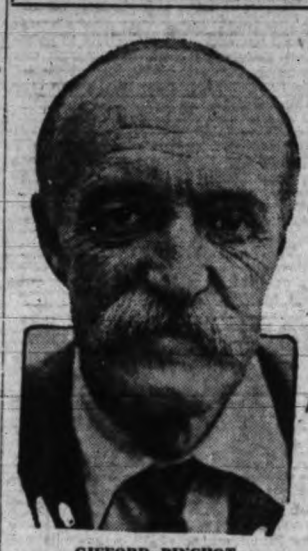

Toronto, June 2.—H. H. Thomas, former executive of the Stimson Bond Company, who was convicted along with F. G. Johnston and L. E. Clark by a jury under Mr. Justice Sedgewick in the assizes here yesterday on charges of publishing false prospectuses, to-day was sentenced to two years less one day in the Ontario Reformatory.

The former officials of the now defunct bond house were charged with publishing false prospectuses and conspiracy to defraud the public. After an hour and a half's deliberation, the assize jury found the accused guilty of the first count and acquitted them on the more serious charge of conspiracy.

Following the conviction, Johnston, who was president of the company, was sentenced to three years in the Kingston penitentiary, while Clark, vice-president, was sentenced to two and a half years. As Thomas was a diabetic patient, under guard at a local hospital, the judge postponed the passing of sentence until to-day.

A Few Uncommon Rock Garden Plants

By JOHN HUTCHISON, F.R.S.

The writer has been trying out a few new plants this year and it will perhaps be of interest to readers of this column to hear about some of them.

Arenaria Montana roses, which, it would seem, is the same as Arenaria purpurea, is a native of Catalonia. This blooms somewhat later than the well-known Arenaria montana, and has pink flowers which almost hide the foliage when it is in bloom. The leaves are much more glossy than Arenaria montana, but otherwise the plant is similar, but not so robust. It is quite easy to grow in a sunny spot in the rock garden.

Bellium minimum, which is also Bellium rotundifolium, is a microscopic daisy with tiny white flowers, sometimes pink at the edge. It comes from the mountains of Greece. It is an excellent subject for small crevices in rocks, but it must be watched as it seeds freely and is apt to come up where it is not wanted.

Calamintha Alpina is not half as well known as it should be. It is everybody's plant and blooms late in the year, a great advantage for any rock garden plant.

It sprays like a large creeping thyme and covers itself with a mass of large, violet flowers which have white tips. A very showy and easily grown plant.

THE MARSH MARIGOLD

The Caltha or marsh marigold may be had in several forms, single or double, large and small. For those who have a small bog garden, there is nothing superior to it when grown in association with the ordinary water forget-me-not. It is quite easy to grow and increases quickly.

There are two other uncommon *Campanula*s which should be better known. Campanula aucheri is a starling beauty from the Caucasus. It has small, bell-shaped flowers, and huge bells on satin purple. It blooms in May and should be planted in gritty soil in full sun.

FROM THE ALPS

Campanula comes from the Alps and is perforated in each petal. This is a quaint and pretty little campanula which will run by the wayside.

CHINESE IS DROWNED AT PORT ALBERNI

Special to The Times
Port Alberni, June 2.—Lee Hie, Chinese fisherman, was drowned on Sunday two miles from Port Alberni, when the dugout canoe in which he was fishing was overturned by the strong wind.

His companion, Wong Hung, was rescued by Indians.

The body has not been recovered. Police are making a search.

City Declines To Pay Hall Rental Incurred By Mayor

Special to The Times
Port Alberni, June 2.—Practically the only item of interest at Monday evening's meeting of the city council was the refusal of the council to pay a bill for $7.50 incurred by Mayor Kendall. The sum was rental of a hall on the occasion of the mayor's celebrated protest meeting called to discuss the improvement tax question.

Aldermen Stone and Jones supported the mayor's claim that the meeting had been called in the city's interests and should be paid for by the city council, but Aldermen Fleming, Desha, Turner and MacMillan voted against it.

The city's gravel question was temporarily settled by the passage of two agreements for sale between the city and the gravel company. The city retained 2,000 yards of the gravel now deposited on the banks of the Soaness River. Mayor Kendall again expressed his disapproval of the whole gravel proposition.

The city's by-laws were formally amended to permit of the building of wooden awnings in the city under proper supervision.

JOHN BENNETT COLLAPSED AT POWELL RIVER

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, June 2.—The death occurred yesterday at Powell River of John Bennett, former right wing resident of Nanaimo, who collapsed while riding to lunch and died in a hospital one hour later.

He was a native of England and was married by four brothers and three sisters, resident in British Columbia. The late Mr. Bennett was being a director of the Nanaimo Athletic Club. The remains will be buried here for burial. Alderman John Bennett of Nanaimo is a nephew.

ORANGES, TEA TO COST MORE IN VICTORIA

Other wholesalers concurred in Mr. Stewart's view. Australian oranges, it was pointed out, while available here, were not as good as those from the West Indies, which were in short supply. The price of tea, it was pointed out, was not as good as that of the West Indies, which were in short supply.

W. W. Duncan, B.C. director of markets at Victoria, expressed the belief that the higher cost of oranges would assist the sale of B.C. apples. Shown the dispatch a Water Street dealer was sceptical.

"In my experience," he said, "I have found that when a buyer wants oranges, he wants just that, and neither apples grown in B.C. nor anywhere else will do."

Chemainus

Chemainus, June 2.—A most successful silver tea given under the auspices of the Chemainus Branch of the Women's Auxiliary to the M.S.O.C. was held at the home of Mr. L. P. Foster at Froton.

Those assisting were: Mrs. Douglas Groves, Mrs. Bigwood, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Talbot, Miss Foster, Miss Atkins and Miss Molly Bigwood. Tea was served on the veranda and lawn. Clock golf was in charge of Miss Jean Bailey.

Miss Collison won the first prize in the second round. Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Groves in the play-off. Mrs. Groves won a horse-shoe contest under the direction of Mrs. E. Barkley and Miss E. Cook. Mrs. Gainsford won the first prize and Mrs. Gore-Langton the second.

Mr. Foster was in charge of the ball-driving. Mrs. Poole carried off the first prize and Rev. Eric Robathan the second.

Two Conservative Finance Ministers Send Cost of Living Soaring In Province

Within three months two maiden budgets have been introduced by Finance Ministers of the Conservative Party and have heavily increased the cost of living of people in British Columbia.

On March 5 Hon. J. W. Jones, who was created Minister of Finance for British Columbia to straighten out the financial situation in this province, introduced his first budget and the highlight of it was the one per cent tax on Ottawa, his first budget with sweeping increases in taxation.

Highlights of the Jones budget were:

New tax of one per cent on all incomes over $15 per week for single persons and $25 for married persons, in addition to present income tax.

Tax on banks increased 20 per cent.

Net debt November 1, 1930, $90,207,061.

Net debt November 1, 1930, $102,540,180.

Gross debt increased by $15,380,231 to $130,274,161 from November, 1929, to November, 1930.

Restoration of war taxation on tea, which has been free since the Dunning budget, the new Bennett levy being four, eight and ten cents a pound.

Income tax on companies and corporations increased to ten per cent from the present rate of eight per cent.

Duty of 40 cents a ton on anthracite coal, $1 on coke, $0.50 a ton on charcoal, and 75 cents on bituminous coal, which brings an automatic rise to the Vancouver Island coal going into the Seattle and coast markets.

New tax of one per cent on net premiums received by insurance companies, except life and marine.

VANCOUVER PAPERS SEE BURDENS BROADENED UNDER BENNETT BUDGET

"The wheat and coal problems are dealt with by the device of bonuses," continued the Sun. "That the principle of handing out money to particular industries is intrinsically unsound needs no arguing. But its adoption is an inevitable sequel to the type of tariff policy which the Bennett government is committed."

"All the rest of the industry penalties for compensating advantages, the tariff protection, so, in a desperate effort to save the motions of the evening the scales, the government falls back on a bonus."

"The result is a cumbersome and complicated fiscal system, the unravelling of which spells only grief to some future administration."

FARMERS' POSITION

"Incidentally, a bonus of five cents a bushel is far from evening the scales," continued the Sun. "On sixty-cent wheat is represented by the farmer pays thirty and forty per cent on manufactured articles he has to buy. Furthermore, the farmer himself contributes as a taxpayer to pay his own bonus, but the manufacturer does not pay the customs duty which burdens his operation."

"It is all a vicious circle. Each industry pays somebody else and nobody is any better off."

INCOME TAX

"The reduction in the rich man's income taxes will lead a lot of defence in view of the all-round increases in other directions bearing heavily on the most heavily on those least able to pay."

"The new plan in the Finance Minister's analysis of last year's revenue decline exposes the unsoundness of the Bennett Government's whole policy to the public," continued the Sun. "The relative decline in customs receipts during the six months since the September tariff increases was about the same as during the preceding six months, he points out. This appears to be statistically correct, but the cause is totally different."

"Under the Dunning budget a wide range of Empire products entered free. Under the September tariff a wide range of commodities were taxed so heavily that importation of them practically ceased. Both the revenue and the trade, the Dunning policy, which at trade expansion which would yield in income and other taxes an amount of revenue compensating for the loss in customs receipts."

VIEW OF THE PROVINCE

The Vancouver Daily Province editorially said:

"Presenting his first budget to Parliament, Mr. Bennett has in the unhappy position of having to announce a deficit."

"The chief interest in Mr. Bennett's budget is not about the amount of the deficit, which is known, would be large, than in the situation which he would adopt to meet it."

"The budget is a budget of expedients. It is a budget of the government has apparently been canvassing every means of getting them. The principal money

TOLMIE BUDGET PLEAS IGNORED

Was on Record Against Coal Tariff; Tomato Appeal Overlooked

B.C. Premier Pleased With Extra Help For Old Age Pensions

At least two disappointments are contained for Premier Tolmie in the Bennett budget. He was on record as opposed to duties on bituminous coal imported into Canada on the ground that it would endanger the Crow's Nest Pass coal industry. He had appealed to Premier Bennett to establish a value for duty of twelve cents a pound on tomatoes entering Canada to stop the flood of Missouri and Texas tomatoes entering the market to the detriment of B.C. tomatoes.

No action has been taken on the request regarding tomatoes the budget shows. Immediate tariff protection was sought by Premier Tolmie in telegrams to Ottawa in which he said Texas tomatoes were ruining the market for B.C. tomatoes and pointed out the fact that the market was virtually being cut off.

In the last few days Premier Tolmie in telegrams to the Federal Government had registered emphatic protest against duties on bituminous coal imported into Canada. The budget announcement that $1 a ton on this coal. In his telegram he said a duty on U.S. coal would be almost sure to result in retaliation from the United States which would shut Crow's Nest Pass out of the U.S. market and seriously damage B.C. coal mining.

Speaking yesterday, Premier Tolmie referred with pleasure to the budget announcement that 75 per cent of the cost of old age pensions would in future be carried by the Federal Government.

Canadian Income Tax Interests Exporters in U.S.

By Ken Clark, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, June 2.—Collection of an income tax from United States firms which sell goods to Canadian customers through any person in Canada is reported by the Department of Commerce to be causing much concern among those taxed.

George B. Martin of the department says profits derived from sales made direct to Canadian customers without the intervention of any person or firm in Canada would not be subject to the Canadian income tax.

Now that strict application of the law in Canada is being made it is pointed out here it is possible for firms paying the Canadian tax to write off their losses against the tax which they pay the United States Government.

TORONTO DEATH IS INVESTIGATED

Steel Company Will Increase Its Payroll

"As a result of the new budget, we anticipate making a large increase in employment and we announce installation of wider plate rolls to furnish a complete line of made-in-Canada plate steels."

"The government is to be congratulated on their spread of necessary taxation and their action in developing the use of Canadian coal, as well as absorbing some freight charges, all of which helps the important item of increasing and keeping Canada's purchasing power at home."

"The broad policy of stabilizing employment, and of not increasing prices to customers and from increased custom eventually paying our Canadian shareholders a 6 per cent return on capital investment will be continued."

MAN KILLED BY U.S. COASTGUARDS

San Pedro, Cal., June 2.—One man was shot to death and two others were captured today by the U.S. coastguard cutter Arrow after a six-hour chase in the open sea off Heuneme Beach, seventy miles northwest of here.

The man killed was tentatively identified from a pilot's license as William M. Milliken, twenty-seven, of Wilmington. The body was literally riddled with bullets.

The man taken into custody gave the names of Walter Brown and D. C. Clark, but refused to disclose their address.

Cutter officers said they sighted the boat about 11:40 yesterday evening, running without lights. When hailed the boat made a run for the open sea, and the chase continued until 5 o'clock this morning when the government vessel drew close enough to bring its machine gun into play.

A total of 300 rounds of ammunition were expended during the chase. Among the most unusual were the International Congress of Tramps, the International Congress of Tramps, and a gathering of 20,000 herring fishermen.

MAN ADMITS HE KILLED MAN

Yakima, Wash., June 2.—A first-degree murder charge today faced Roy Privett, forty-two, who shot and fatally wounded D. M. Owen, thirty-eight, change, and then walked to the sheriff's office and gave himself up.

Privett, a sheep herder, explained that "family trouble" had led him to commit the crime, police said. The shooting was done at Owen's office yesterday evening and Owen, still conscious when officers arrived, died a few minutes after being taken to a hospital.

A telephone call made to the office by Mrs. Owen was answered by Privett, who told her it was the wrong number. Owen is survived by a widow, his mother, and two children, aged fourteen and sixteen, by a former marriage.

JAIL TERM ON OPIUM CHARGE

Canadian Press
Vancouver, June 2.—Convicted in court on a charge of importing opium valued at $10,000 on May 24, 1929, Lee Chee Young, alias Albert Lee, was sentenced to-day by Magistrate J. C. Shaw to three years in the penitentiary, with a fine of $500. Should the man not pay the fine he must spend three months longer in prison.

"I look on this as a serious case. I think the penalty should be a serious one to meet it," said the magistrate.

Lee Chee Young was charged with taking part in the smuggling of ninety-five times of opium from a ship in the harbor. Two white men, Joseph Knowles and Ben Brooks, were arrested by R.C.M.P. and customs officers and sentenced to the penitentiary. Young disappeared and for two years officers of the R.C.M.P. men trailed him to and fro across Canada. Eventually he was arrested in Toronto about six weeks ago and brought here for trial.

TOO MANY VISITORS TO ISLANDS Get Mixed Up in Their Geography, Article Says

Montreal, June 2.—Though there have been considerable increases in the past year in the number of Canadians visiting the British West Indies aboard the Canadian National Lines, which inaugurated service two years ago, Canadians still need a lesson or two in West Indies geography, says a periodical of the tropical colonies. It says the fault is common to Britishers, too, and cites the remark of Sir Horace A. Byatt, Governor of Trinidad, to visiting British parliamentarians: "Sir Horace told me that he had met an otherwise well-informed British visitor who admitted mistaking Trinidad for the capital of Cuba."

"Roughly" reads the rudimentary lesson to Canadians, "the rudimentary consist of thousands of small islands in the Gulf between North and South America, on the Atlantic coast. They were discovered by Columbus, misnamed by India, and so named Indies. Also they were thought to be the fabled land of Antilla, or Antilla, and so are known to this day as Antilles."

The West Indies comprise Bermuda, the Bahamas, the Greater Antilles and the Lesser Antilles. The latter are divided into Leeward Islands and Windward Islands, so named because of their relation to winds which aided early navigators.

The treatise points out that Bermuda is really a group of hundreds of islands properly known as the Bermudas; that Barbados is a name in the singular and is only one island; that Grenada has a neighboring archipelago called the Grenadines; that Guiana (sometimes called Demerara) and British Honduras and continental colonies which, for convenience, are considered part of the West Indies, and that, incidentally, coconuts have nothing in common with coconuts.

NEW TAX CUTS OFF LLOYDS'

Vancouver Marine Insurance Men Say Bennett Budget Levy Ends Policy Sales

Canadian Press
Vancouver, June 2.—Insurance of Canadian ships or other property with the famous Lloyds' Association of London will be subject to an almost prohibitive tax if the insurance clause of the Bennett budget is approved by Parliament, marine underwriters here declare.

Lloyds', it is pointed out, is not a company, but an association of insurance brokers and accordingly is not registered as an insurance concern in Canada.

Much of the large marine business here is transacted through Lloyds', but in the future premiums on all such insurance will be subject to a tax of 20 per cent, which local brokers say, would be prohibitive.

At the present time there is a provincial tax of 1 per cent on all marine insurance premiums, and the Federal Government tax has been 5 per cent. With the federal tax it means that fifteen per cent there, it means the insurance clause of the Bennett budget is approved by Parliament, marine underwriters here declare.

THE BUDGET

WITH THE EXCEPTION OF A FEW items, Canadian products entering New Zealand in future will have to pay the same customs duty as foreign goods, the government of that Dominion having removed the British Preference which this country has enjoyed since 1903. This action has been taken as the result of the failure of negotiations which had for their object a reciprocal treaty. Premier Forbes advised Mr. Bennett by cablegram last week that it was impossible for the southern Dominion to continue the preference because of the disadvantages from which New Zealand was suffering. Mr. Forbes said he did not expect any further from the negotiations at present, although

H. AUSTIN GOWARD, Sales Manager

PHONE 63411 EVENINGS 63156

New York, June 2.—Artificial control of the supply of the world's raw materials has proven abortive in the effort to adjust general supply and demand, John J. Julian, president of the Rubber Exchange of New York, declared to-day, pointing out rubber, coffee, cotton and wheat as four of the recent experiments.

"In the instance of crude rubber,
the recent Stevenson enactment," added Mr. Julian, "was inaugurated when conditions creating over-supply already had begun to adjust themselves. The aftermath of rubber restrictions has now reached that point where instances are reported of rubber trees being cut down. While such a procedure is not general, instances have been reported of coffee being burned. The latest development in cotton is a proposal to have the farmers plough up every fourth row.

WORLD WAR A FACTOR
"It is the opinion of most prominent economists that the war so interfered with normal laws of supply and demand that a readjustment is now necessary. With an unsatisfied need in some parts of the world for the four above-mentioned commodities of which there is an apparent excess in other portions of the world, it would seem that some adjustment other than a radical restriction of outputs, could be normally applied, with the maldistribution of commodities so corrected that the curbing of the generosity of nature would become unnecessary.

"Some of my English friends feel that the matter of overproduction could be largely solved by changes in the international monetary systems.
A discussion of this argument could be beyond the scope of this interview."

IMMEDIATE RELIEF NECESSARY
Mr. Julian pointed out that no one doubts that at the present time some immediate relief seems necessary for the rubber producing interests. Such remedial steps as are taken should not be regarded, however, as permanent panaceas for the industry.

"Any temporary restricted measures that may be adopted should be designed to encourage an adjustment of the price level to a point that will afford reasonable profits to efficient producers.

"The rubber industry is peculiar in that it is dependent upon a tree that does not produce adequately until it has reached the age of five or six years, so the preservation of healthy trees under present abnormal conditions seems only wise. Nevertheless, it is only reasonable to expect that the mechanization which is gradually being applied in all branches of agriculture will, in the future, help to reduce the production costs of crude rubber as well as other commodities.

RUBBER PROBLEM VITAL

"The serious problem confronting the rubber producers is one in which this country is vitally concerned, inasmuch as the vast quantities of rubber consumed by the tire and other industries of this nation must be imported, with more than 90 per cent of our crude rubber importations coming from plantations and native states in the Far East, the Far East.

"The abandonment of relatively small portions of the areas producing this rubber already is under way, and protective measures seem necessary to insure that such procedure does not become general over any extended period of time."

"The Rubber Exchange, since its opening, Mr. Julian emphasized, has been free from the blighting hand of government or artificial restriction.
It stands to-day as the only commodity market of world-wide interest, still enjoying such freedom, he said.

Onaway Wins First Of Dinghy Series; Conditions Poor

Onaway, skippered by George Wallace, won the first of the series of dinghy races conducted under the auspices of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, on Saturday afternoon. The Onaway finished the course two minutes before the two-hour time limit, while the nearest competitor, Tern, in charge of Humphrey Golby, was fifteen seconds after the time limit. Onaway took the lead from the start and maintained it during the entire race. Sailing conditions on Saturday afternoon were exceedingly poor, there being little, or no breeze, and as a result the race lacked the interest and possible thrills it would have had if the wind had been more boisterous. Onaway finished the course in one hour fifty-eight minutes and twenty seconds, while Tern did it in two hours and fifteen seconds. The boats starting in the race, besides the Onaway and the Tern were the Puffin, "Gingen" Rotham; Helen, Miss Helen Lindsay; Margaret,
Commodore F. A. Lindsay, and Guillemot, sailed by Robert Porter. Aboard the Onaway with Mr. Wallace was H.
A. Tomalin, who acted as "crew."

W. W. Rowson, secretary of the Yacht Club, acted as starter. Cadboro Bay presented a gay scene during the race with numerous visiting yachts from Seattle and other Puget Sound ports.
These yachts arrived in the inner harbor during the morning and went around to Cadboro Bay as soon as it was learned that there was to be a race at the bay.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Ancient and Modern Mesmerism, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" was the subject of the lesson-lesson in All Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday.
One of the Scriptural texts contained in the lesson-lesson was, "Love work-eth no ill to his neighbor: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law" (Romans 13:10).
Following the reading of the Bible texts, passages were also read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, one passage being the following from page 402: "We say that one human mind can influence another and in this way affect the body, but we rarely remember that the mind is not better influenced by the body, and that the body is not better influenced by the mind."
The error, mesmerism—or hypnotism, to use the recent terms—illustrates the fact just stated. The operator would make his subjects believe that "they cannot act voluntarily and handle themselves as they should do. If they yield to this influence, it is because their belief is not better instructed by spiritual understanding."

BECOMES BRIDE OF POPULAR SPORTSMAN

Nuptials of Richard B. Wilson and Miss Helen Tatlow Are Solemnized

Pretty Ceremony Followed by Reception at Home of Bride's Sister

Vancouver, June 2.—A wedding of outstanding interest throughout British Columbia and in the old country, took place at high noon today in St. Alban's Church, Ashcroft, when Helen Carnett, elder daughter of Mrs. Tatlow, Cartier Avenue, and the late Hon. Robert Garnett Tatlow, was united in marriage to Mr. Richard Biggerstaff Wilson, son of Mrs. Wilson, Rockland Avenue, and the late Biggerstaff Wilson of Victoria.

The charm of a June wedding in the country was evidenced in the profusion of summer flowers and ferns which had transformed the interior of the church into a charming setting for the event. The marriage service of the Anglican Church was performed by Rev. C. G. McGiffin, an uncle of the bride, who was assisted by Rev. E. R. Bartlett, rector of St. Alban's.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Kenneth Garnett Tatlow, the bride was attired in an exquisite Lanvin model of pale ivory wool lace over a foundation of soft crepe monochrome, which was lightly visible in the yoke of the Moyenne bodice. Falling from the deeply swathed hips, the skirt fell in soft folds to instep length, while the lace jacket was fashioned with bell sleeves completed with Mousquetaire gloves. Her bride's cap was formed of bands of white French violets and she carried a shower bouquet of cream-tinted bride's roses.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Tatlow, as maid of honor, and by Miss Isabel Russell, who were similarly attired in charming frocks of white georgette, which featured the new Bertha cape effect, the long cross-over ends forming inset godets for the full skirts. Their picture hats were of peluphium blue rough straw, trimmed with a deeper blue velvet banding. Lapis lazuli beads gave a further touch of color to the costumes, while the bouquets were composed of blue delphinium and pink colored ushens, while Mrs. Faucett of Walhachin supplied the wedding music.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Cornwall Manor, the lovely country residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fitz-Alan V. Cornwall, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. The wedding breakfast was served on the lawn, the bridal table being centered with a three-tiered wedding cake surrounded with clusters of roses and white carnations. For the occasion Mrs. Tatlow, the bride's mother, wore a handsome gown of black chiffon and Chantilly lace, an undergarment of paddy green in the small yoke, giving a touch of color, which was also featured in the ornament of her black hat. Her finishing at the Beach Hotel, Oak Bay, where tea was served.

Guests at the Quilcom Beach Hotel last week included: Mr. R. J. Pattullo, Major Moodie, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilkie, all of Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Babitt, Miss R. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Jam Brand, Misses Mary and Polly Brand, all of Vancouver; Misses E. Rhodes and E. Hedding, Mrs. E. D. McDonough, Mrs. E. H. Wintner, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Converse, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Buhst, Mr. and Mrs. R. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Schuhardt, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Seaman, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. P. Roberts, Cumberland, Maryland.

An altogether delightful and successful affair was the silver tea held at the home of Mrs. W. Walker, Monterey Avenue, yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the child welfare work of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E. The affair was under the patronage of Mrs. S. P. Tolmie, honorary member of the chapter, with Mrs. L. A. Genge, regent of Municipal Chapter, and Mrs. H. Anselcomb, who poured tea, with Mrs. C. T. Teasdale, second vice-regent and Miss J. ## WOMEN TOLD OF AIRPORT PLANS

Ald. W. T. Straith Speaker at Business Club Supper Yesterday

The case of the proposed airport site at Gordon Head was ably expounded before the Business and Professional Women's Club yesterday evening by Alderman W. T. Straith, in an address given at the monthly supper meeting held at the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. E. G. Maynard, the president, was in the chair and vocal solos were contributed by Mrs. H. Darling, with Mrs. Stewart at the piano.

Mr. Straith reviewed the need of adequate airport facilities in Victoria, pointing out that the government had declined to give its approval to the present Lansdowne Road airport, owing to its being too small. The creek and other obstructions were against this field, and it was also essential that the flying field be away from hospitals or residences. To each of these requirements the proposed site at Gordon Head fully conformed, while it was ideal from the point of climatic conditions, being remarkably free from fog.

The preparation of the airport and the construction of the hangar would also furnish work for the unemployed, observed Mr. Straith, in urging the women to do all in their power to

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

FOR BABY'S SAKE KEEP MILK COLD UNTIL FEEDING TIME

Evidently it cannot be repeated too often that during the warmer weather the safety of milk lies in keeping it ice cold until ready to use. To warm milk and keep it warm for any length of time is to give those germs which are in all milk a most happy chance to develop into dangerous millions.

Despite this constant repetition mothers intent on going to picnics, on traveling or visiting by auto or train, always sprout the bright idea that the answer to feeding the baby warm milk is to warm it beforehand and keep it warm until they are ready to feed it.

One mother explained that she always brought the milk to a high temperature and then by the time the baby was ready for it, it had cooled enough to be fed to him. She always, so she said, kept the bottle wrapped in a clean towel. Now the towel wrapping would prevent foreign dust from reaching the bottle, but what of the milk all those warm hours? Germs, thousands of them, would have developed into millions. It is the warmth of the milk itself, not the time or the place or the utensil, that is the dangerous element.

WARM MILK AT FEEDING TIME

Mothers ought to know that. They know that milk sours rapidly when they warm it and set it on the back of the stove to keep warm. Even if the boys' milk doesn't sour, the germs that are capable of souring it, as well as other more harmful ones, are developing rapidly all the time the milk is kept warm.

If one wants to carry milk for babies, then some way must be devised for keeping it very, very cold, until the moment when it is ready to be heated for his use.

WOULD MARRY TEXAS GUINAN

London Man Proposes Marriage and Divorce to Make Her British

Havre, France, June 2.—Texas Guinan, New York night club hostess, was confronted to-day with a shower of marriage proposals.

One of them was Harry Aslett of London, who offered to marry her so she could enter Great Britain as a Briton's wife and later obtain a divorce. She said she was willing to marry either a Briton or a Frenchman "if it helps me out of this mess."

As she vanished they would be allowed to go to Paris, the entertainers' spirits sunk to a new low. Huddled in the bare dining-room of the emigrant hotel, they listened mournfully to the plunk of a guitar and a dapper rehearsing her steps. They are due to be deported to-morrow.

French Government officials explain the ban is based on the fact that the night club hostess has no authorization to work in France, thereby violating labor regulations, and in no way reflects on her character or that of her show girls.

MODERN "SHORT-BOIL" METHOD

for making Jams and Jellies

Saves time and money—Insures perfect jams and jellies

THE Certo "short-boil" method is now accepted as the most efficient, economical way to make all your jams and jellies. Millions of women use it!

Certo is a pure fruit product—just the natural jelling substance extracted from fruit in which it is abundant.

With Certo, anyone can make perfect jams and jellies, quickly and easily, from any fruit or fruit juice, even those delicious fruits that never before would jell.

The experiences of Mrs. A. and Mrs. B., as outlined on this page, make clear not only the genuine economy, but also the wonderful simplicity and ease of the Certo method. Certo is fruit pectin, made in Canada.

1 Mrs. A. had two quarts of ripe strawberries to be made into jam. After hulling her berries, she was ready to start making her jam at nine o'clock.

3 The dark band on the kettle indicates the amount of fruit and juice from Mrs. A.'s berries (4 cups). The strawberries cost 20c. a quart—2 quarts 40c.

5 Mrs. A. added 2 lbs. of sugar to her berries. The sugar cost 7c. per lb.—2 lbs. 14c.

7 Following the old "pound for pound" standard recipe, Mrs. A. had to boil the fruit and sugar about 30 minutes before the jam thickened to the desired consistency. This long boiling evaporated one-half of the original weight of the berries and carried off most of the natural fresh fruit flavour as fragrant steam.

9 When Mrs. A. poured her jam she found she had 6 1/2-oz. glasses. The cost: Berries.....40c. Sugar.....14c. 6 1/2-oz. 54c. 9c.

The 6 glasses cost an average of 9c. per glass.

11 It took Mrs. A. 45 minutes to make her 6 glasses. It was nine forty-five when she finished.

This same comparatively holds true with all fruits. With Certo, by leaving the fruit juice formerly boiled away, you get half again more jam or jelly from a given amount of fruit. You save the delicate colour, the delicious flavour of the fresh fruit. You save time, effort, and fuel, and get a perfect jam or jelly every time at a saving of from one to three cents per glass.

2 Mrs. B. also had two quarts of ripe strawberries and she was ready to start her jam-making at nine o'clock, too.

4 Mrs. B., using the same quantity of strawberries (2 quarts), got the same amount of fruit and juice (4 cups). Her berries also cost 20c. a quart—2 quarts 40c.

6 Mrs. B. added 3 lbs. of sugar to her berries. The sugar cost 7c. per lb.—3 lbs. 21c. (The next step explains this larger quantity of sugar.)

8 Mrs. B. simply brought her fruit and sugar to a tumbling boil, and boiled them for a few minutes, then added 1/2 bottle (1/2 cup) of Certo. The fruit flavour and colour were saved and the juice didn't boil away. That is why extra sugar was needed—simply to jelly the juice that would have boiled away by the "long boil" method. The jam will contain no more sugar per glass than by the old method.

10 Mrs. B. got 10 8-oz. glasses of jam from her berries. The cost: Berries.....40c. Sugar.....21c. 1/2 bottle Certo @ 35c.....18c. 10 8-oz. 79c. 79/10c.

12 Mrs. B.'s 10 glasses of jam were made in 15 minutes. She was all through at nine fifteen.

THE Not More Than Two Dozen Horses Are Expected to Start

Much Speculation Over Probable Winner of British Open Golf
Number of Britons, Americans and Argentines Have Equal Chance Errors Feature Play of Major League Ball Teams Last Week
Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Cleveland Compile Best Records

GREAT BRITAIN'S greatest golfing competition, the open championship, got under way at Carnoustie, Scotland, the ancient stronghold of the game yesterday. The opening round of the thirty-six hole qualifying play was featured by the brilliant exhibition turned in by MacDonald Smith, native of Carnoustie, but a resident of the United States for many years and entered from that country. Playing in a deluge of rain and with a par shattering round of seventy, Smith has been at Carnoustie for several weeks getting his game tuned up for the open and is figured as one of the greatest threats.

Never in recent years has the championship been so wide-open as this year, with a dozen Britons, Americans and Argentines conceded to be capable of winning the title, but not a single one of them an outstanding favorite. The United States entrants hope to maintain unbroken the record of their country's victories since 1923 when Arthur Havers of Great Britain won.

There are a number of Britons considered good enough to win the title. Bobby Jones will relinquish. They include Archie Compston, Henry Cotton, Percy Allis, H. C. Jolly and the three brothers, Charles, Ernest and R. A. Whitcombe. On the other hand, there are a number of United States stars considered good enough to win. They are Gene Sarazen, Johnny Farrell, Joe Turnesa, Horton Smith, Joe Kirkwood, Tommy Armour, Tony Manero and Willie Hunter.

The field of 214 is divided for the qualifying round between Carnoustie and the panmure course at Barry. Carnoustie is 2,700 yards long, with a par of seventy-two. Panmure is 6,410 yards long, also with a par of seventy-two, and is much the easier of the two. The 2,100 and ties will qualify for the championship proper, beginning to-morrow.

Errors were the outstanding mark of major league baseball through most of last week. Only seven of the sixteen big league teams were able to get through the busy week with fewer than ten errors. While the Boston Braves made eighteen misplays in nine games, and the Pittsburgh Pirates seventeen in eight contests, the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago White Sox were the best of a bad lot when it came to fielding, each making only three errors. Philadelphia led the National League, having only four misplays.

The Brooklyn Robins, picking on their interborough rivals, the New York Giants, compiled the week's best record. They won four games out of eight and Cleveland, average, the Chicago Cubs climbed into third place in the National League with seven victories and two defeats.

The Athletics slipped out of their winning streak long enough to lose two games out of eight and Cleveland, which broke away from a long string of defeats, came up to tie the Athletics for the best performance of the week in the American League. Washington and Chicago gave them a close race. Each won five games and lost two.

The Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals led heavy damage to the opposing pitchers. Chicago pounded out an even 10 hits in thirty runs, while the Cards tallied sixteen runs on ninety-one blows. The Athletics scored fifty times to lead the American League, and hammered out nine home runs to lead both circuits. Cleveland topped the younger league with eighty-five hits. Brooklyn and the New York Yankees hit seven home runs apiece, while the White Sox were the only club in either league which failed to get one.

The Phillies, who played only five games, showed the best defensive mark, allowing their opponents only seventeen runs. The White Sox gave their rivals twenty-three runs in seven games, while Cleveland's opponents scored twenty-five times in eight contests. At the other end of the list Cincinnati's opponents put over seventy-one runs in nine games. The greatest lack of punch was seen in the Detroit Tigers, who scored only nineteen runs in seven games and hit safely only fifty-two times.

Special Meeting Of Fish and Game Board on Friday

To consider important recommendations recently placed before them, members of the Victoria Fish and Game Association will meet in the offices of Heisterman and Tait on Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. The matter which will be brought under review are the tag system for deer and other suggested regulations for game and fish. The members will also make recommendations for the opening dates on game.

The tag system is aimed to prevent persons from killing a large number of deer.

Twenty-eight Remain to Answer Bugle, Although Threat of Rain May Further Reduce Field; People From All Walks of Life Flock to Epsom Downs for Famous Event; Railroads, Ancient Carriages, Airplanes and Busses Provide Means of Transportation for Crowds; Much Speculation Over Probable Winners; Millions of Dollars to Be Distributed in Many Sweepstakes

Epsom Downs, June 2.—From Whitechapel and Mayfair, from countryside and village, city and town, countless thousands to-day began their annual trek towards historic old Epsom Downs for the 148th running of the Derby to-morrow.

While stablemen and trainers carefully kept guard over the probable starters who have been trained for months and most of whom, indeed, have been pointed for the Derby since they were yearling, the Epsom multitude began to assume shape as railroad trains, automobiles, ancient horse-drawn carriages, aristocratic four-in-hands, airplanes and motorbuses dumped their passengers into this quaint old village.

Steve Donoghue's Mount Is Scratched From English Derby

Epsom Downs, Eng., June 2.—The famous shout, "Come on Steve," without which no Derby seems complete, will probably be missing to-morrow. Steve Donoghue's mount, Link Boy, was scratched to-day and so the only jockey who ever won six Derbies, three of them in succession, is without a horse, though his son Pat rides Primitif. Link Boy's withdrawal was a surprise. He seemed to be fine in a morning workout but was afterwards examined by a veterinarian who said the colt was suffering from intestinal disorder.

Link Boy's owner, W. G. M. Singer, a doyen of the turf, was disappointed.

"It is hard luck," he said. "I have been waiting for forty-one years to win the Derby and I did seem to have a chance this time."

ALAN FOSTON KNOCKS OUT MICKIE GILL

Sensational Young Vancouver Bantamweight Hands Irish Lad Terrific Lacing

Foston in Brilliant Performance; Nels Ferguson Winner Over Gordon Wallace

Vancouver, June 2.—Alan Foston, Vancouver's sensational young bantamweight boxer, handed Irish Mickie Gill a terrific lacing in the main event of yesterday evening's show at the Arena and won on a technical knockout in the ninth round of a scheduled ten-round bout.

Foston fought a brilliant fight, went into the lead in the second round after an even opening frame, and from that time on it was only a matter of how much punishment the game little Irish lad could absorb. Foston finished fresh and unmarked, while Gill was a gory sight and his blue eyes were tired and glassy.

FULL OF ACTION
For sustained action very few bouts have been seen in Vancouver to compare with the four-round opener. Art Ferguson, Vancouver, battered out a decision over Kid Stubbs, the tough Port Arthur slugger, but only after a tough slugfest.

Russ McCoy of Seattle held Oril Campbell of Chilliwack at bay pretty well for a couple of rounds by his pretty footwork and defensive tactics, but Oril's left hook finally broke down that defence and he won handily.

FERGUSON A WINNER
Nelson Ferguson, Calgary, outclassed Gordon Wallace, Vancouver, in the next battle, and he capped the three-way decision.

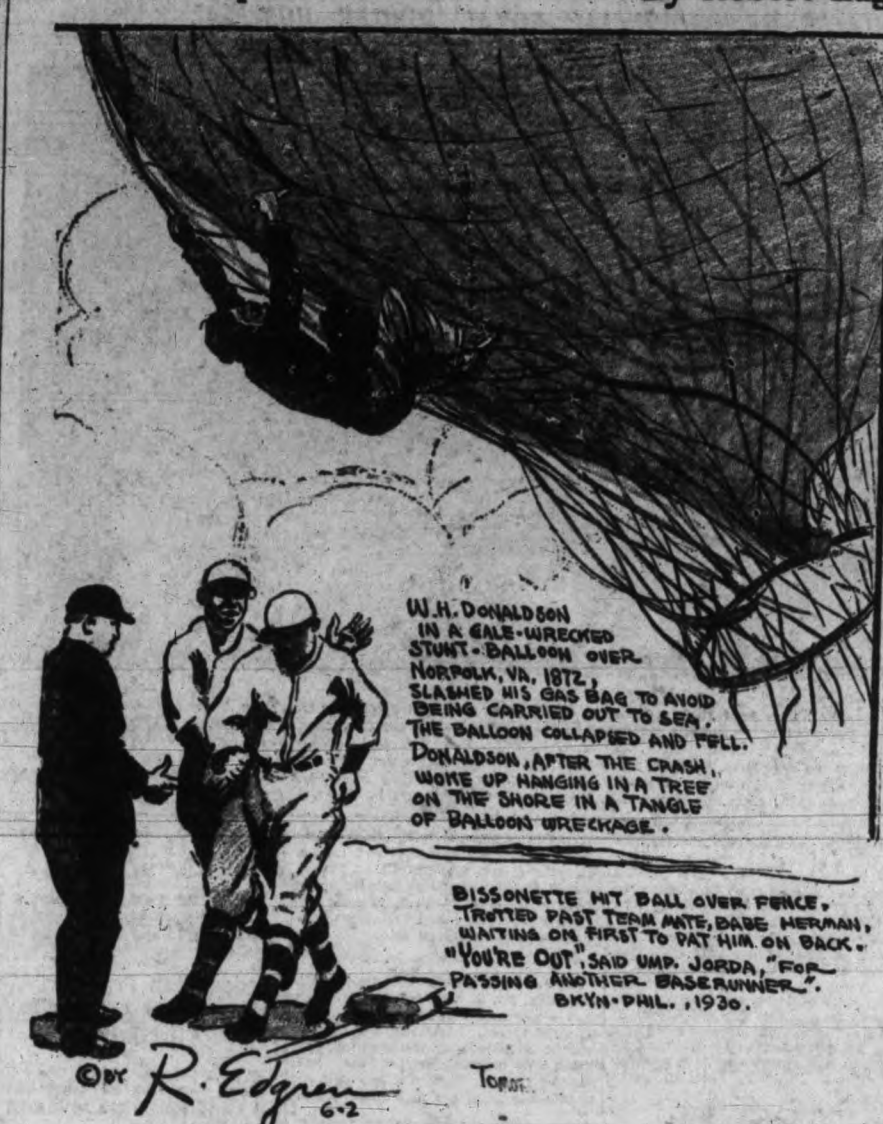

O'Day of Portland did far too much ducking and holding to suit either the customers or the referee, and Paddy Sullivan, California featherweight, whipped him very effectively in the six-round semi-final. O'Day is willing and has some cleverness, but once Paddy was aroused, which was not until the sixth round, Pat didn't have a chance as the clever little Californian with the wonderful footwork lashed in and handed him a pasting.

TAIYOS AND BUDS TO MEET TO-NIGHT

In what should prove a fixture of unusual interest, the Taiyos, snappy band of young Japanese ball-players, will clash with the Rosebuds in the Twilight League game at the Royal Athletic Park this evening at 6:15 o'clock.

The Buds, who won the junior championship last year, have been showing good form so far this year and should give the Jap boys a good battle. It will be the first time these clubs have clashed since last season.

Jack Albright started in the wrestling game by joining a circus and offering $25 to any man who could stay in the ring with him for ten minutes. Then he discovered Ed Don George, one of the greatest wrestlers in the world, and he took Albright two years to get him interested in the game but when he did it took him only three months to make a champion of him. Since then many famous men in the mat game have been tutored by Albright and when it comes to wrestling and wrestlers his decisions have become bywords to promoters in the United States and Canada.

Victoria Net Stars To Meet Vancouver

Strong Team From Victoria Lawn Tennis Club Oppose Jericho Here To-morrow

Ossie Ryall, Number One in British Columbia, Will Meet With J. C. I. Edwards

Led by Marie McNab and Ossie Ryall, Jericho Lawn Tennis Club's representative team will arrive in town to-morrow morning to contest with a team representing the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. The Vancouver team is composed of all well-known tennis stars and with a strong side representing Victoria some great tennis should be witnessed.

Ossie Ryall, number one player in British Columbia, will have his hands full when he tackles J. C. I. Edwards, number two player. Edwards has been turning in some great tennis this year and local experts look for him to take the Vancouver ace into camp. This match, which is the feature of the meeting, will be played at 2 o'clock, and a large gallery is expected.

The women's match between Marie McNab and Mary Campbell should also provide plenty of good tennis, as both players are at present playing at the top of their form.

Several matches will be played in the morning, commencing at 11 o'clock, with the feature games being played until the afternoon.

Giants Invade Home Ground of St. Louis For Crucial Games

Eyes of Baseball World Centred on Sportsmen's Park Where National League Leaders Will Play Host to New York Club; Cards Have Chance to Take Commanding Lead; Robins in Series With Cubs; Western American League Clubs Face Difficult Task; St. Louis Won Only Game Yesterday

After a day's hiatus, in which only one game escaped the rain and the general movement of clubs east and west, intersectional warfare breaks out on both major league fronts to-day.

Four western members of the American League, invading the Atlantic seaboard for the first time this year, have scant prospects of success against the powerful Philadelphia, Washington, New York combine. The National League's eastern contingent, on the other hand, opens in the west with more concerted strength than it has boasted in several seasons.

Interest centres on Sportsmen's Park at St. Louis, where the New York Giants engage the St. Louis Cardinals in what is later on might be termed a "crucial series." It is a little too early for that just yet, but the series will lend a fair idea of the Cardinals' chances to win another pennant. A game and a half ahead of the Giants now, Gabby Street's Red Birds face an opportunity to take a commanding lead.

The Brooklyn Robins, flushed with a four-game winning streak, engage the third-place Chicago Cubs, who likewise have captured four in a row. The Boston Braves open at Pittsburgh and the Phillies meet the luckless Cincinnati Reds.

To the Chicago White Sox fall the thankless task of bearing the fast-traveling Philadelphia Athletics in their own park. The St. Louis Browns invade Yankee Stadium, the Detroit Tigers face Washington and Cleveland Indians meet the Boston Red Sox to round out the American League menu.

Their ability to take all extra innings decisions again stood the Cardinals in good stead yesterday as they made ready for the Giants by noosing out the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 1, in twelve innings. It marked the fifth time the Birds have been forced beyond the regulation nine innings this year and the fifth time they have won. Inspired by Harvey Hendrick, who doubled Cardinal pitching for three batted and two singles, the Reds made a great fight of it, rallying in the twelfth inning to tie the count. Not until the twelfth, when Wilson doubled and was singled in by Sparky Adams, did the Cards succeed in subduing Dan Howley's lads. Both teams used three pitchers. Bill Hallahan finally getting credit for the victory.

St. Louis, June 2.—The St. Louis Cardinals went twelve innings yesterday to defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 1, in the final game of the series. Watkins, whose batting was a factor in the Cardinal victory, stole home for one of Cincinnati's runs.

Batteries—Johnson, Strelecki, Benton and Sukeforth; Kaufman, Halahan and Wilson.

Remainder of major league games postponed on account of weather.

PICK SOCCER PLAYERS FOR "REP" ELEVEN

Twenty-two Will Fight For Places on Team to Oppose Touring Englishmen

Trial Matches Will Give Players Practice; Suspension Lifted on Joe Crowe

In an effort to select the finest team possible to oppose the touring English football players here on June 24, the Lower Island Football Association at a meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday evening, picked twenty-two players from teams in the First Division, and the Wednesday League, who will fight for places on the all-star eleven. The players will take part in two or three practice matches, following which the "rep" team will be named by Manager Charlie Lewis and his trainer, who will be chosen next week.

One of the features of the meeting was the lifting of the suspension of Joe Crowe of the Saanich Thistles. Crowe was handed a year's forced vacation, a couple of months ago, but the officials decided to put him back in good standing to make him eligible for the match with the English team. Crowe is one of the best full backs in the city and will no doubt earn for himself a place on the "rep" squad.

Louis De Costa, Esquimalt, and Tommy Bridges, Saanich Thistles, are the two goalies selected. The full-backs include besides Crowe, Wes Harper, Thistles, Gibbons, Victoria City, and George Leggett, Jokers.

The half-backs selected are: Eddie Viggers, Saanich, Boyd, Saanich, Esquimalt; Reg. Shanks, Victoria; West; Campbell, Jokers, and Smith, Victoria City. On the two forward lines will be: Robinson, Mulcahy and Peers, Victoria; West; "Scotty" Stewart, Esquimalt; John Watt and Wagland, Esquimalt; Bunyan, Jokers; John Taylor, Hudson's Bay, and Burns, Saanich Thistles. John Taylor is the only Wednesday League player to be selected.

Decided Drop In Betting on Tracks Of Eastern Canada

Toronto, June 2.—A decided drop in wagering at the spring race meets in shown in the report of the Ontario Treasury Department issued yesterday. At Woodbine, which closed Saturday, the amount wagered was about $1,750,000, compared with $2,000,000 for last year's spring meet. Thoroughbred figures are around $1,600,000. It is rumored Woodbine officials contemplate calling off the fall meeting.

AT THE THEATRES

CAPITOL THEATRE

The story of a young reporter, his temptation, complication with gangsters, and final penalty for the framework of "The Finger Points," the first National production starring Richard Barthelmess, playing at the Capitol Theatre to-day and Wednesday. The story was adapted for the screen by John Monk Saunders and W. R. Burnett, and was directed by John Francis Dillon. Fay Wray, Regis Toomey, Clarke Gable, Robert Elliott and a large cast make up the supporting players. Barthelmess plays the role of the reporter and it is said to be the most daring thing he has ever attempted.

AT THE COLUMBIA

William von Brincken, who achieved distinction under John Barrymore's command in "General Crack," plays an important role in "Three Faces East," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone play, now at the Columbia Theatre.

Von Brincken was a student in the military telegraph school in Berlin, from which he graduated to become an officer in the army.

Von Brincken was signed for the part due to his ready command of both English and German.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

Critics have unanimously agreed that "Mr. Lemon of Orange," the Fox comedy co-starring El Brendel and Phil Dorsey, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, is a "veritable laugh riot." It gives both Brendel and Dorsey the best opportunities they ever have had to display their talent for fun-making. Others in the cast include William Collier Sr., Ruth Warren, Donald Dillaway and Joan Castle. John G. Blystone directed.

Brentwood

A well-attended meeting of the Keating Co-operative Fruit exchange was held at the Institute Hall, Brentwood, on Friday evening, President A. E. Gale presided. A fairly successful season for strawberries is predicted. The present duty and only a medium crop to be harvested should produce a fair price for crate berries, he said. Favorable quotations for jam berries had been received from several firms. Local berries were coming in and in some shipments would start about June 6. The shed pack was strongly advocated. The fact that 5,000 crates, only thirty were called for rebate last season, was believed to be due to the shed pack system. The importance of a uniform degree of ripeness in the pack was also emphasized.

J. E. Sladen, secretary of the Victoria Wineries, told the growers that his firm would pay eight cents a pound, as it had done in previous years. The winery did well during May, which was a record month, he stated. Mr. Sladen pointed out that the quality of loganberries also had a lot to do with the making of good wine, and urged the growers to pick only fully ripe berries. If they shipped the same quality of fruit as last year, no complaints would be received, he concluded.

H. Groh of the division of botany of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, gave an interesting talk on weeds and method of control. A short talk was given by Mr. Devereaux on the merits of the Magoon berry in which he stressed the importance of strict cultural methods in the selection of plants.

BETTER POSITION FOR CANADA IN EXPORT MARKETS

Lower Prices Responsible For Part of Drop in Total Export Value

Manufacturers, at Convention, Given Optimistic View of Trade Situation

In its analysis of Canada's export trade for the last year, the commercial intelligence committee of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association found a partial reversal of the experience of the previous year. At that time the decrease of $343,000,000 in exports was accounted for by a drop of over $300,000,000 in agricultural products and raw materials, while fully manufactured goods showed an increase of over $68,000,000. This year the export of manufactured goods suffered a severe drop, while the previous decline in agricultural products was out by two-thirds.

"Some of the reasons are fairly obvious," remarked the committee. "Many countries have increased tariffs or enforced regulations making increased trade difficult. In many countries, due to low raw material commodity prices, the purchasing power on which which the sale of manufactured goods is especially dependent is much reduced, thus making further sales and repeat orders difficult to achieve. Again, prices of almost all classes of goods in our own country are noticeably lower, so that the drop in export values is at least partially accounted for by lower prices obtained for the goods sold."

CANADA'S POSITION BETTER

"More recent total figures indicate that Canada's position in export markets is improving," says the report. "Greater efforts than ever are being put forward by manufacturers to obtain additional business abroad and an air of gradually restored confidence becomes a warranty for believing that the drop of $300,000,000 in our export of manufactured goods, representing as it does a per cent of our total production of manufactures in Canada, over 20 per cent of our total export trade and 30 per cent of our export trade in manufactured goods, is a temporary condition that besets Canada in line with all other exporting countries and for which there is strong hope of improvement in the future."

A record of work accomplished, not only by the C.M.A., but by other organizations in promoting the production-in-Canada policy, was presented by this committee.

MOVEMENT ENLARGED

"With this great accumulation of effort coming from many different directions," says the report, "the production-in-Canada idea, once in a lowly place, has assumed extensive proportions and strength in many quarters. There is plenty of room for further and urgent advocacy of the production-in-Canada idea. One great witness is the importation of over $675,000,000 annually from five countries outside the Empire of goods which a large proportion are of a class or kind produced in Canada. In all of these countries Canada's trade is heavily over-balanced in their favor." As an interesting sidelight on export trade, the committee reported that under its supervision there had been translated during the year 4,363 letters written in foreign languages and received by members of the association. This was an increase of 754 over the previous year.

Local strawberries came to the market with a rush yesterday and to-day, almost 200 crates from Saanich, Keating and Gordon Road having been received. The private growers have not yet been heard from in any great numbers, but it is expected a fairly steady flow of strawberries will pass through the wholesalers from now on.

This morning the local strawberries were selling around twenty and twenty-five cents a box, but with increasing supply there is no reason why retail prices should not prevail within a few weeks.

The first car of British Columbia strawberries has been sold at $4 a crate in Moose Jaw and Saskatoon, the markets branch of the Department of Agriculture announced this morning. The car was shipped from Haney on Sunday and was chiefly made up of Dunlop and British Sovereign berries, with some crates of Marshalls.

Another car left Haney yesterday for Regina and was sold at $4 a crate before being shipped. A third car was expected to be made up overnight for dispatch this morning.

Supplies of strawberries were available, but the demand was abnormally large and all offerings were distributed at $3.75 a crate.

Canadian Chamber Of Commerce Head To Visit Victoria

Action Started in Connection With Brokerage Bankruptcy Last Fall, Ends To-day

COL. J. H. WOODS

Col. J. H. Woods, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, will visit Victoria on Tuesday, June 16, it was learned by the local Chamber of Commerce this morning.

While here they will confer with local directors on matters of interest to both Victoria and Dominion bodies. Arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors have not yet been completed, but it is expected they will be taken on drives around the city and shown its chief industrial plants and natural beauties.

CARD PLAYING IN CLUBS NOW UNDER REVIEW

Steward of Brunswick Club of Vancouver Appeals Conviction

Playing of poker in a private athletic and sports club came before the British Columbia Court of Appeal this morning in Rex vs. Bampton, an appeal by the steward of the Brunswick Club of Vancouver, against a police court conviction by Magistrate Findlay on a charge of being keeper of a common gaming house. J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., appeared for the appellant Bampton and W. M. Mackay for the Crown.

Mr. Farris stated the Brunswick Club had 1,700 members, all having paid annual dues of $1 each. The club had billiards, cards and other amusements and also had a football field. No rake-off was taken from games but the profits to the house, from poker, were admitted to be greater than from billiards or the cigar stand, though less than the earnings of the football field.

The case was of interest because evidence taken two years earlier in a prosecution dismissed by Magistrate Shaw, was used by consent of all parties, to show that no change in policy of management had taken place. Mr. Farris stated that only members were admitted, but Mr. Mackay said the conviction had been entered upon the evidence of a non-member, Mr. Farris retorted: "He was a stool pigeon, who obtained entry by using a member's card. I am surprised that you should bring that up."

When Mr. Farris asserted "the Brunswick is a bona fide club," Mr. Justice Martin inquired "a bona fide club made conducted" whereupon Mr. Mackay remarked "That is my argument."

Mr. Farris said that accommodations for twenty-four poker players at four tables were provided, and that about 120 of the 1,700 members might be expected to participate in such amusements.

PSYCHIATRIST ON STERILIZATION
Brookville Doctor Urges It as Protection Against Mental Deficiency

Toronto, June 2.—"I believe the time has arrived when we should as an association again express our approval of the adoption of sterilization as a protective effort to materially lessen the number of defectives in the population of our country," declared Dr. Walter M. English, Brookville, Ont., in his presidential address at the opening session here to-day of the eighty-seventh annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Association.

United States statistics, according to Dr. English, show 600,000 people in that country have the mentality of a child below the age of seven years. The mentality of a person from seven to nine is possessed by 1,300,000 people in the United States, he declared. Incomplete figures for Canada, suggested the presence of 27,625 feeble-minded persons.

There is overwhelming evidence to prove the great majority of cases of mental disease are one thing in common—they are the result of heredity, claimed Dr. English.

$454,000 SUIT IS DISMISSED

Action Started in Connection With Brokerage Bankruptcy Last Fall, Ends To-day

Application was made to-day to Mr. Justice Gregory in the Supreme Court here by Knox Walker, counsel for Logan and Bryan, for dismissal of the suit for $454,000 brought by Branson, Brown & Co. Limited, against Logan and Bryan. The action has been pending for several months. Mr. Justice Gregory granted the motion and dismissed the action, with the result that this litigation is now ended.

Since the action started last November, Branson, Brown & Co. Limited went into bankruptcy and Francis H. Kidd, trustee in bankruptcy, after investigating the situation, announced that the Branson firm and creditors had no claim against Logan and Bryan. As a consequence D. P. W. Maunsell, counsel for Mr. Kidd, attended in court to-day and consented to the dismissal of the action.

The $454,000 action was started by H. H. Shandley of Elliott, Maclean and Shandley, as counsel for Branson, Brown & Co., who stated that if the suit succeeded creditors of the Branson firm through division of the proceeds, would be recouped for a substantial part of their losses, suffered when the local firm closed its doors, Mr. Thartwk.

CANADA NEEDS SALESMEN FOR ORIENT TRADE

Manufacturers Told of Market Opportunities in China and Japan

China Buying More Than Ever Despite Strife, Says Trade Envoy

There are dollars and cents for Canadian manufacturers and Canadian workers in Japan and China if the industrialists of this country will go after them and get their share of the things which these countries are buying in increasing quantities. This was emphasized before the annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the Empress Hotel to-day by James A. Langley, commercial secretary to the Canadian Legation at Tokyo, and by Lieut.-Col. L. M. Cogrove, Canadian government trade commissioner at Shanghai, in luncheon addresses.

Wars and civil strife notwithstanding, China was buying more than she ever did, Cogrove emphasized, and the producing nations of the world were competing strongly for that market.

"Personal contact" was the theme of both speakers.

"Sales to the Orient cannot be made by long range salesmanship," Mr. Langley said. "Canadian business houses must send representatives to Japan and China."

One eastern company, he said, was selling its products in Japan in a small way, but on his recommendation sent an official there. As a result of the visit, the company had half a million dollars during the second year following the official's visit. Another firm allowed things to slip until its business with Japan had dropped seventy-five per cent. It sent a representative and increased its sales by $35,000.

Both speakers were agreed that Canada had already made considerable progress. Its exports to Japan jumped from $500,000 in 1914 to $42,000,000 in 1929, since when, on account of current conditions there was a decline to $20,000,000 in 1930. But Japan was still Canada's third best customer in the world. In 1930 twenty-six per cent of the exported finished products of Canadian plants went to Japan to the value of over $7,000,000. This did not include partially manufactured commodities such as sawn timber, wood pulp and flour.

TRADE INCREASE
Eleven years ago Canadian trade with China amounted to less than $2,000,000, whereas by 1929 her trade had increased to approximately $25,000,000, placing Canada eighth in order of importance with three per cent of the total trade as compared with the United States twenty-five per cent, United States' eighteen per cent and Great Britain's nine per cent.

The trade was there and some one was going to get it, the speakers urged, and the government trade secretaries and commissioners were there to give them necessary information.

The luncheon was under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club of Victoria. Donald MacDale, the president, presided.

Winnipeg Wants New Relief Plans

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, June 2.—Winnipeg and fourteen adjacent municipalities are anxious to have a conference called by the municipal councils of the area to discuss the financial ability to carry the load of unemployment relief. Delegates of the municipal councils stated yesterday at a conference called by Mayor Ralph H. Webb of Winnipeg that unless further assistance should be provided by the Dominion and Provincial Government, relief programmes would be at least partially dropped.

The meeting went on record as favoring assumption by the two governments of the entire cost of unemployment relief, thereby taking from the municipalities a burden they find next to impossible to shoulder.

A further meeting will be held June 11.

BUSINESS AHEAD OF LAST YEAR IN MOTOR SALES

Seven Per Cent Increase Within Last Five Months, Says C. N. Galer

City Business Coming Back Satisfactorily, But Country Holdings Not Opening Up

"During the first five months of this year we are 7 per cent ahead of last year on sales in Canada," said C. N. Galer, sales manager for the Studebaker Corporation of Canada, on his arrival in Victoria to-day from Walkerville, Ont., on his annual tour of the company's agencies.

"This increase, while it might be better, shows that business is on a sound basis in spite of the economic depression."

"I am not showing any rockets or making any loose statements, but observations I have made on the present western tour go to prove that the back of the depression is broken and that business is coming back. To my mind there is no doubt that things are on the up-grade."

C. N. GALER

"The city business is coming back very satisfactorily, although the country districts of the prairie provinces have not yet opened up."

SATISFACTORY HERE
In Vancouver car sales are most satisfactory and Victoria is classed by Mr. Galer as one of the best agencies in Canada.

"Bob Jameson has represented the Studebaker interests in Victoria for the last fifteen years, a remarkable record of clean and straightforward business dealing," said Mr. Galer.

"Free Wheeling," which was first introduced by the Studebaker Corporation, is responsible in a large measure for the satisfactory sales, according to the Studebaker sales manager.

NOT OVERLOADING
In emphasizing the actual increase of 7 per cent in sales, Mr. Galer said that the dealers had not been overloaded with cars in order to reflect increased sales, the stocks being not more than two-thirds of last year.

"Under this system we are delivering immediately to the public through the dealers as the demand continues, which is a most healthy condition," he said.

"In these days of 'profitless merchandising' we are covering the overhead and making very little over actual cost, and the buying public is getting the benefit of it all."

The Studebaker Corporation has been manufacturing automobiles in Canada since 1909, being the second company to open up a plant in this country.

Two-cent Stamp Tax Discourages Savings Depositors

Depositors in savings banks will now be taxed two cents every time they make a small withdrawal, as a result of the imposition of the stamp tax on cheques under $10 as well as those over $10, bankers explained to-day.

"Thousands of persons, particularly women, will be caught by this tax," one banker said. "Through many years of saving, persons with small sums of money have been educated to keeping their money in the chartered banks and starting savings accounts, forming a habit and leading to thrift."

"These people make withdrawals in very small amounts, usually only as much as they actually need for some particular purpose. This accounts for the large number of cheques for a couple of dollars going through here and in every other city daily."

"On a withdrawal cheque of $2, the two-cent tax is an item sufficiently large to have a distinctly discouraging effect. It is felt that it will discourage small savings depositors from putting all their funds in the banks, and this would be a retrograde step and destructive of the thrift and saving habit."

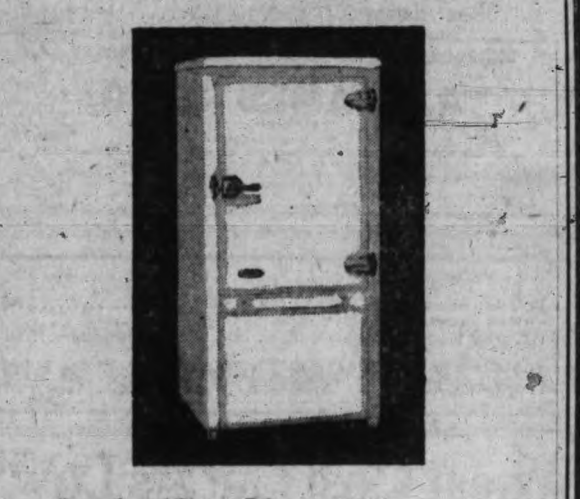

Bankers said thousands of small cheques which will now have to pay a two-cent stamp tax go through here every week.

Fire Insurance Tax Expected To Yield $500,000

Toronto, June 2.—Fire insurance executives here to-day voiced approval of the decision of the Dominion Government to impose a tax of fifteen per cent on the premiums of companies licensed in Canada.

The opinion was expressed that the one per cent tax imposed on the net fire insurance premiums in the Dominion, generally might be absorbed by the insurance companies. It was estimated here this would bring a revenue of approximately $500,000 yearly to the Dominion treasury.

The British Columbia Court of Appeal opened its summer sessions in Victoria this morning at the court house, the full bench, being present. The following judgments, reserved from the Vancouver sessions, were announced by Chief Justice Macdonald and Mr. Justice Martin:

Kean vs. B.C. Electric Railway Co., appeal allowed.

Jure vs. Vancouver Harbor Board, appeal allowed. Mr. Justice McPhillips dissenting.

The King vs. Mulla Singh, appeal allowed.

Battistini vs. Thomas, appeal allowed.

Hutt vs. Hawkins, appeal allowed, the damages to be equally divided as the blame was equal.

Gilroy vs. Barnaby, appeal dismissed.

Sale vs. Kootenay Power, appeal dismissed.

Kelly Piano Co. vs. Nash, appeal dismissed.

In Gordon vs. Canadian Bank of Commerce, the court ruled the injury was too remote and that a reassessment of damages should be made.

Whittaker vs. Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway, no judgment.

In McGee vs. Pooley the court invited counsel to further discuss certain points, the Chief Justice pointing out that if J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., could show that evidence being sought under the Securities Frauds Prevention Act was to be used in criminal prosecutions against McGee, I. Solloway and Harvey Mills, an injunction should issue. The matter is being argued this afternoon, with C. W. O'Brien appearing for the Attorney-General.

N. Y. Market
Analysis

The Wall Street Journal to-day says that the public has become disenchanted with the action of the market indicated by the experiences of common and wire houses. They report that customers have been throwing overboard long holdings without regard to loss in the past few sessions. Some of them had been carrying the stocks months while others purchased only recently because of the belief that the market was approaching a range from which a good recovery could be expected.

Stop loss orders have affected the market. The practice of protecting against a decline has been growing more popular along and buyers were relying on it to safeguard their positions. Traditionally, knowledge of this supply overhanging individual issues and they were able to uncover the stops with great pressure. The increase in offerings as the lower prices were being reached allowed the bears to cover part of their commitments without affecting the market to any extent.

It is still the belief among many investors that a selling climax will be reached before the market can enjoy a definite turn. The supply has been abundant though not particularly heavy, and the declines have been due to the lack of demand when the offerings appeared. There is a possibility of a heavy wave of liquidation with supply declining prices may end the decline temporarily, but from the attitude of those around the Street it is evident that many will follow the practice of remaining on the side lines until the market itself indicates it is ready to stage more than a minor temporary technical recovery.

Pessimism predominates throughout the financial district. However, several conservative observers expressed the view that a technical rally might develop at any time. They feel that if the market can show a tendency to list selling the covering of shorts can be a good upturn.

NEW IDEAS CITED
AS TRADE'S NEED

New York, June 2.—New ideas, plus intensive advertising, will bring about a revival of business, declared F. W. Walton, Jr., vice president of Arnold Constable & Co., in a statement issued to-day. During times of prosperity, he pointed out, there is always an abundance of ideas, and during a business slump there is usually a dearth of ideas.

"We are going through a period during which ideas are temporarily lacking," Mr. Walton pointed out. "Perhaps ideas run in cycles. For when we have an abundance of ideas, we have increased sales, increased profits, increased employment, increased advertising and general healthy conditions. Where there is a dearth of ideas, advertising becomes ineffective and wasteful, sales are harder to make, profit diminishes."

CONFERENCES ALL PROVE FAILURES

New York, June 2.—The international wheat conference has come and gone. It has left nothing except further confirmation of the fact that nations are very much like individuals; they are willing to co-operate for the common good when they stand for profit individually.

The International Chamber of Commerce meeting was likewise hampered by selfish motives on the part of many members. Some of the European delegates attended not to work out a solution of world economic problems, but to spread propaganda in favor of their own country.

The wheat conference was doomed to failure before it began. Russia, one of the important producing countries, was not in the mood to cut exports, and, of course, the United States would not agree to sit back and hold the bag.

Utah and Nevada
Dividends Also Cut

New York, June 2.—Utah Copper declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50, payable June 30, against $1.50, against $1.50 previously.

Nevada Consolidated declared regular quarterly dividend of 35 cents, payable June 30, record June 12.

The Utah Copper dividend is payable June 30, record June 12.

Face Covered With Blackheads and Pimples. Cuticura Healed.

"My face was covered with blackheads and pimples. The pimples were hard and red and burned so badly some nights that I could not sleep. My face was disfigured by them. I had the pimples as long as I can remember.

"I tried other remedies but they did not help me. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and got relief after using them. I purchased more, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss H. L. Karpen, Rt. 1, Ashville, Man., June 23, 1930.

The Crippled Lady Of Peribonka

By James Oliver Curwood

He knew that only the postiveness of his fate could make her look at him like this, with Claire living and waiting in another world outside. Claire seemed infinitely removed from him, a century away, a glow of memory—like star dust, yet he thought of her as the match went out. His wife would go on living. He and Claire were about to die. He had seen understanding and sureness in the shining depth of Claire's eyes when the tiny flame had illumined their faces. She had let him know, without words, that earth's bonds were stricken from her, because there was no longer an earth for either of them.

As if she had been a partner in the few seconds of his thoughts, Claire spoke softly, giving him her hand again in the night which shut them in.

"I want to hear you say it, Paul. I have dreamed, and even prayed in my wickedness, and have fancied your voice telling me the story. For that I have many times asked God to forgive me. But now it is right and just. I want to hear you say—'you love me.'"

"I do," said Paul. "I know—that I have loved you from the beginning of time, before I came to this life—a thousand or a million years ago. I have worshipped the soul that is you. Sometime, it may have been ages ago, I know that you belonged to me."

"I have always belonged to you," said Claire. "You are the love I thought was hopelessly gone from me—up there. But to die with you is my right. Can there be such a thing as doubt for us now?"

"I am sure there cannot," he said. "You would like to live?"

"Without you, no."

"And there is no chance—no hope of saving ourselves?"

"I can conceive of none. No force could contend with the maelstroms in the throat of the chasm. At the other end all physical matter is ground to pulp as the water comes out through the gorge. We are caught between the two."

He calmly and frankly spoke the truth to her. She made no reply in words, but he could feel her response creeping through her finger tips to him, could feel the tremble and thrill of it in her body. He had not frightened her, but had appealed from the beginning of fear. She did not want to live. The truth seized upon and helped him with a kind of shock. Yet it was a simple thing, one he should have known without intuition or discovery. For Claire was not only a woman, but a soul. Back there, in Claire's world, she would be lost to him—no matter what he might do in the way other men had solved such problems. Only here, in a beginning, and an end all their own, could she belong to him.

Again she was in his heart, listening to his thoughts.

"It is strange, but I want to sing in this darkness," she said. "I did not know that blindness could be so beautiful."

"Nor I?" he answered.

CHAPTER X

During the night following Paul's accident and Claire's leap, men were active below the gorge. Derwent took no time in racing back to the Mistastash, and the presence of a hundred men below the chasm before midnight was the result. Every device of engineering science and unlimited resource which might be employed came into play. The big pool at the foot of the gorge was a glare of illumination, and men went down the river with their flaming torches, footed along its banks and in canoes between them, questing for a shred of something which a few hours before might have been a part of Paul and Claire.

Lucy-Belle, shocked into sickness, was taken to her home. But Claire remained. Men who saw her in the weird glow of the lights will never be able to forget the image of her face as it was photographed upon their memories. Her blue eyes were so wide open and staring, so filled with an unwavering sapphirine flame that at times Derwent thought of her as a spirit-goddess instead of a woman.

Could Paul have seen her he would have known that at last she had conquered her fear and repugnance of the wilderness. She had come to the first men before a train was cut. Her dress and shoes were torn. Her soft skin bruised and bleeding. Where the water crashed and thundered loud, she stood unafraid, until Derwent twice drew her back from the nearness and danger of it. She resented his appeal to her, and Derwent made it only once. A white face, watching for his dead—that was what men would remember. Her eyes flamingly blue, hungrily searching the black stream as it came from the mountain. A fragile form that seemed tireless, as steel. A woman, and yet more than woman—an unforgettable spirit, a vision that was like tragic music, always to be remembered.

She did not give up with the first hours of evening, but continued to watch through the night. She did not move from the foot of the gorge and the pool, as if she were sure that whatever came to her would be found there. Derwent was frequently with her, and tried to talk, but her lips framed few words. Not until day came again did something give way in her, and hopelessness take its place. Then he took her home to Lucy-Belle. "I waited too long," she said to him, and afterward, back with the searching men, he wondered what she had meant.

These searchers, could they have looked through the rock, would have seen a fire. It was the second night for Paul and Claire in a place where night and day were the same. Paul had found drifts of wood along the edge of the sand, mixed with pitchy pine, and a little spot in their world was illumined by light.

In the fire glow at Claire, combining with the light from the stars, Paul watched her as she smoothed and braided the tresses, employing as great care as though she were in her bedroom at home. This was the third time she had given it such attention in their thirty-six hours of entombment. At other times he had held a light for her at the edge of the water while she bathed her face and hands, and once she had said to him: "It is wonderful water, almost as soft as that which comes with rain." She spoke as if they might have been camping on one of the streams they loved, with the sky above and flowers about them. It was her utter acceptance of their fate as a thing of happiness which transformed what would have been a hell for him into a heaven. She had sat in the soft sand as his feet, a few moments before, with her head pillowed against his knees, and there she had unbraided her hair for him to caress, as she watched and waited for him the unusual and beautiful pictures that built themselves in the changing coals and crumbling embers of the fire.

Now she was a little distance from him, and in a sense of dread or fear oppressed him. He followed the rhythmic movements of her slim white fingers braiding her hair again.

If it were madness which possessed him, it was a madness of dread or fear, should have been despair. At first the fighting part of him had instinctively struggled against it, but now he accepted it fully, until, seeing Claire as she was, death seemed vague and far away and the glory of life very near. They had made no effort to hide from themselves the coming of the end, and Claire thought of it as a beautiful thing, a little journey, which they were making gladly to go to meet their Maker. He had found himself fond of telling her how he loved her hair more than any other physical thing about her, and she had said: "I am going to spread it out so you may put your face in it when we lie down to sleep." This was the way she spoke of what was to come, as she spoke of the little things about her, seemed to Paul the fruition of a great privilege and joy, and not a triumph of fleshly dissolution.

He told her little stories about his mother, and of the time they had spent in the Indian burial place at Brantford, where the proudest of the tribe would have buried her.

"I could not understand her then, when she told me how gladly she would give her life, were it not for me, to live for a single year the glorious life of the great warrior," said Paul. "But I do now. In that one year she knew she would find something which would more than make up for all the many years she had lived for me as every hour here with you is more to me than ten thousand back there."

As he said these things, and believed and felt them, there was in him a will to live which would not utterly extinguish itself. It was scarcely more than a spark, a smoldering ember that was bound to die, for he knew his brain, and every faculty of reason which he possessed told him there was no hope of finding a way beyond the walls which shut them in. A few minutes before, when Claire had sat at his knees, with his fingers feeling the warmth and sweetness of her hair, this spark had leaped into flame. It still remained, but Claire held it at last to his demand, and gave herself to the bed he had made for her, with his coat for her pillow.

"It seems almost a sin to sleep," she said; and if slumber were near, or even the necessity for it, he could find no shadow of it in her face. She might have been from her bed an hour ago, so freshly clear and lovely were her eyes, so deep their lustrous content and happiness when she looked at him. Yet after a little, her lashes dropped as if to veil the love behind them, and lay in velvet darkness against the whiteness of her cheeks. For a while Paul sat close and watched her, and with each breath the flame in him grew stronger, the demand that something happen, through force of God or man, to break down the walls of death which surrounded her.

Alone, with Claire's unconscious form lending faith and inspiration to his thought, he fixed his attention as a dozen times before, on the smoke which rose from the burning wood.

Where did it go?

Uncle Wiggily and the Helping Ants

(Copyright, 1931, by Howard R. Garis.)

"Who wants ice cream?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I do! I do! I'll have some, if you please!" answered dozens of voices of the animal children as they crowded up to the rabbit gentleman.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Can the Modern Girl Be "Nice" and Popular at the Same Time?—Writer, Artist or Musician?

DEAR MISS DIX—You say that girls should "be feminine." How can one be that? If you try to be real ladylike and don't go in for sports and games, the boys, they think you are a flat tire who is too delicate and timid to be a good sport.

You say a girl should "be pleasant." But boys nowadays think they can say anything and get away with it. A girl is always amiable and never gets angry.

You say "be modest." I have tried, but it doesn't seem to succeed very well.

What can you do when somebody starts telling dirty stories—if you don't want to listen to them? If you pretend you don't get the point, they'll say you're a dummy.

If you get up and walk away, they call you "a prude" or "a mamma's darling."

You say "don't pet," but what can you do to make boys stop? If you ask, you are community property.

If you don't, you are absolutely the bunk.

LORRAINE.

ANSWER:

It certainly must be, and, as I have remarked before in this column, the young generation of girls have my heartfelt sympathy. For they have to work ten times as hard as their mothers did and pay a price for the attentions of the young sheiks of to-day that no man would have dreamed of asking twenty-five years ago and no girl even considered giving.

To the modern girl it will sound like something fetched down from the trunk in the attic to tell her that in her mother's day young men actually range as it seems, respected girls. Yes, I mean it, they actually respected girls, and no man ever thought of telling a nice young girl a filthy story, or making an indecent proposal to her. He kept that kind of conversation for the lot of women one didn't even mention to the girls of one's own set.

Believe it or not, as Mr. Ripley says, but the other day a middle-aged man, a clubman and a man of the world, in discussing with me this subject of the changed attitude of the young men of to-day toward girls, said that when he was young, when a boy was going to call on a girl in the evening, he neither drank nor smoked for several hours because he felt that the smell of liquor and tobacco on his breath might be offensive to her.

And a young man then thought it a compliment for a girl to receive his attentions and invite him to her home and he made all the advances and did all the courting. He didn't expect her to run after him, as boys expect girls to nowadays. And that the feminine reserve tactics worked better than the male-em-down plan is proved by the fact that there were very few old maids mother's day and there are very many now.

How all of this change has come about, it is hard to say. Undoubtedly, mostly the war is responsible for it. So many young men were killed off that men became a rarity, like diamonds, and girls began bidding for them. Any price they asked. Modesty, maidenly reserve, groveling like slaves before them. Running after them. Anything.

And the boys were quick enough to see their advantage and make the most of it. They perceived they could be grand sheiks and laughably sit back and throw the handkerchief and have the girls fighting over it. At parties they could take their pick of the girls and dance only with the prettiest. They did sit back pretty and wait for the girls to call them up over the telephone and make dates and come for them in papa's automobile and take them to the theatre, where mother had bought the tickets. Being a young man had suddenly become a great grat and they are making the most of it. Civilization has slipped a cog and the girl of to-day is just as much enslaved to men as her foremothers were 1,000 years ago.

And the girls haven't got the girl nor the backbone to band together and free themselves and force the young men of to-day to respect them and treat them decently. And that is the reason, Lorraine, why you have to listen to dirty stories and let boys paw you over to pay them for taking you out to the movies. If you girls would refuse, you could bring the boys your terms, because they can no more have a good time without you than you can without them.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—When I read stories and columns by great writers I feel will never be satisfied unless some day I can write a good, great book or be famous columnist. I also love music and feel if I could play as some great musicians do I would play forever. I also feel I would like to be a great artist. To be a great musician or writer or artist, which? I am trying to decide. Must prepare myself for a career. Which shall it be? C.P.

ANSWER:

You are indeed fortunate if God has endowed you with genius in three lines. But you must remember that thinking that you would like to be a great writer or artist or musician doesn't necessarily mean that you have the talent to be one. A lot of us would like to be millionaires, but we haven't got but fifteen cents in our pockets. You had best try out your talents and see which one registers, if any.

In the meantime, I earnestly advise you to get a job that will make you a living.

The Goddess of Love

The goddess of love and beauty was called Aphrodite by ancient Greeks, but Romans called her Venus, and she is better known by that name. The most beautiful planet in the sky is called Venus, in honor of the goddess.

Many stories were told of Venus. One of these describes how she gave youth named Hippomenes, who wanted to win the hand of a princess.

From a tree of golden apples, Venus picked three and gave them to Hippomenes.

The princess was named Atalanta, and she was said to be more swift-footed than any other person on earth.

The reason of her speed, Atalanta did not wish to be married. There were many suitors, but she put them off by saying, "I shall not marry any man unless he can defeat me in a foot race."

Wishing to marry the princess, Hippomenes first went to ask the aid of Venus. From a tree which bore golden apples, the goddess picked three and gave them to him, saying that he should take them where the contest was to be held.

When Atalanta saw the young man, she tried to prevent him from racing with her, saying, "As you know, the penalty is death if you lose the race. You are a fair youth and I do not want you to lose your life."

Despite the warning, the suitor insisted on testing his skill. The race started, and in a moment Atalanta was ahead. Then Hippomenes tossed one of the golden apples in front of her. She paused, stooped down, and picked it up. This permitted the young man to pass her. When she again sped ahead of him, he tossed out another apple, with the same result.

The third golden apple was thrown in front of Atalanta just before she reached the goal, causing her to pause a third time and lose the race. Hippomenes and the princess were married.

The "golden apples" which we hear about in ancient myths are believed to have been suggested by oranges. The yellow color of the orange skin is almost like gold. Oranges appear to have been rarely seen in ancient Greece, but we have reason to believe they were to be found in Spain.

PULL TOGETHER AND KNOW EACH OTHER BETTER

Elmer Davis, President of C.M.A., Urges Co-operation For Country's Development

Wider Markets Must Be Developed By Establishing Direct Contacts, He Says

"If we are going to make anything of this great Dominion of ours we must pull together and get to know each other better," said Elmer Davis, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in an interview with The Times.

With the one common problem of unprofitable operations facing them, the agriculturists of the West and the manufacturers of all Canada must co-operate and work together in order to successfully meet the present economic difficulties, he said.

"Wider markets must be developed for Canadian goods, not necessarily by national organizations, but by individual firms making direct contacts with buyers and sellers in new countries," Mr. Davis said.

The British Empire, South America and the countries of the Orient offer the best opportunities for Canada's surplus goods, he believed.

ACTION OF TIDE

"The tide never rolls out but it rolls in again when economic conditions return to normal Canada will be in the van of recovery," said Mr. Davis.

The business leaders of the future will be those who do not hesitate during the present depression to change their methods when better ones can be substituted.

The virtue of patience should be practiced by Canadians more in the future, he thought.

Mr. Davis said one of the outstanding features of the tour was the remarkable reception that had been accorded the delegation all the way across the country.

"We were received everywhere with the greatest cordiality and the keenest interest was displayed at all points in the work of the association," he said. "We have come out here to learn things and expect to return home with a better conception of western ideas."

MANUFACTURERS HEAR OF TARIFFS

World Trend For Revision Upward at Present Time, Committee Reports

More than seventy countries have amended their customs tariffs in whole or in part since the last annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in 1930, and in the great majority of cases these revisions were upward, declared the tariff committee of the organization in reporting at the annual meeting here today.

Victoria Welcomes Manufacturers

facturers' Association in 1930, and in the great majority of cases these revisions were upward, declared the tariff committee of the organization in reporting at the annual meeting here today.

Quoting Henry Chalmers, chief of the division of foreign tariffs, United States Department of Commerce, the committee said:

"The economic depression that affected almost the entire world during 1930 has been a dominant influence in the trend of the commercial policy of most foreign countries in the last year. The sense of common distress led several groups of countries to come together during the year to consider various plans for closer economic co-operation, either by moderating the barriers to exchanges of goods or by common action in the marketing of surplus products. Up to the end of 1930, however, these various efforts at concerted action have shown little result. The majority of tariff changes and other measures for control of international trade actually adopted during the year by the various foreign countries seem rather the expression of a sense of an increased tension in international competition and of a sharper spirit of economic nationalism."

TREND IS UPWARD

The experience of 1930, stated, the committee, was indicative of a policy which had been world-wide since the Great War. Official comments upon fiscal policies generally throughout the world showed that tariff trends had been definitely upward during that period, especially with respect to duties on manufactured goods. While certain countries, viz., Czechoslovakia, France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland, had from time to time negotiated trade treaties which had resulted in the extension of minimum or conventional rates to mostly-favored nations, nevertheless, such conventional rates had been based upon rates of duty which in the first place had been raised sharply for bargaining purposes.

SALES TAX INCREASE

Consideration had been given to the probability of an increase in the sales tax as a means of increasing the national revenue and after a careful study of the situation, the committee made the recommendation that "if the government must have additional revenue from the sales tax it would be better to increase the rate temporarily than to change the present system or to adopt what many people are advocating in the form of a so-called turnover tax." This recommendation had been approved by the executive council and presented to the government. The committee recalled the Association had emphasized for many years there were too many customs houses in Canada, with the result it was impossible to maintain at all these ports officials qualified to appraise and classify goods for customs purposes. There had been a considerable reduction in the number of customs houses, but in the opinion of the committee, this reduction could be carried a good deal further with advantage to business and the national revenue.

NEED SUBSIDIES FOR STEAMSHIPS

Manufacturers Told Dire Need of Aid By Government at Present Time

W. E. Harper of Observatory Describes Work of Institution to Delegates

Need for greater subsidization of trade steamship lines by the government was stressed by W. F. McClintock of Vancouver, before the Canadian Manufacturers' Association convention yesterday afternoon.

Speaking to the transportation committee's report, Mr. McClintock made only a brief reference to the subject, but said prompt action in that regard was necessary. Unless something was done soon, the effect of present conditions would be drastic.

He also spoke of steps for securing legislation to govern freighting by automobiles. There was need for making the trucking business a responsible one so that shippers would not be in danger of suffering losses through irresponsibility.

The transportation report, presented by C. A. Waterous, was adopted.

HEAR BUDGET CHANGES. Reading of tax changes from the federal budget featured the close of yesterday afternoon's session. Delegates listened with keen interest as taxation revision items were read out from news dispatches.

After the session the convention party was driven to Butchart's Gardens where they were entertained at tea. A group photograph was taken at the Parliament Buildings prior to this outing.

ASTRONOMER TALKS

W. E. Harper of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory was the afternoon speaker on the subject of the observatory's contribution to astronomy. He detailed briefly the history and work of the institution, referring to the fact that the telescope at the observatory was the second largest in the world. He mentioned the great interest shown by tourists who visited the observatory to the extent of 29,600 in 1928 and 33,000 in 1930.

He outlined the incidents which led up to the foundation of the observatory here, being an offshoot of the Ottawa observatory. Victoria was chosen for the big telescope because of the equable climate and the "steadiness of the star image" here. Slides of the huge mirror, six feet in diameter and twelve inches thick were shown. It took three and one-half years to grind this reflection. The polar axis, in which it is mounted, weighs nine tons.

SPECTRUM RESEARCH

Mr. Harper described the research made possible by means of the spectrum and how the velocity of stars was discovered. In this connection, he said, the institution had been responsible for measuring the radial velocity of about one-third of the stars known. A list of 700 recently tabulated was now ready for publication.

The astronomer, he explained, in determining the distance of stars, used the surveyor's method of triangulation, using a base of 195,000,000 miles, or twice the distance between the sun and the earth, as the base in some cases.

Any practical benefits which may ensue, but merely for the knowledge that will be gained. You men probably realize that there is no discovery in science that does not soon have practical advantage. But outside of all that, there is a cultural benefit from astronomy," he concluded.

PENSION PLAN CHANGE FAVORED

C.M.A. Committee Reports For Contributory Old Age Pension Scheme

Continued careful study of the unemployment problem generally was today urged on members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the annual meeting here by the industrial relations committee of that body. The committee submitted a report on its finding following the circular sent out to the members on the instructions of the last meeting to make a special investigation into unemployment conditions.

"The replies, which were unusually numerous," said the report, "went to show that conditions were worst in the prairie provinces, next worst in British Columbia and Ontario, Quebec being somewhat better than the two latter provinces and employment in the maritime provinces being almost up to normal. The replies also showed that the great majority of employers were doing their utmost by regularizing employment, by manufacturing for stock and by carrying out repairs, etc., to keep a maximum of workers in at least part-time work."

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

The committee noted that in consequence of the unusual unemployment conditions in Canada, requests were being made in certain quarters for a state system of unemployment insurance. It referred particularly to Premier Bennett's statement on the subject on April 29 and declared that "it is apparent to all who give consideration to the question of federal insurance against unemployment, sickness and invalidity, that is it a most important and far-reaching problem, including as it does such subsidiary questions as to whether or not agriculture and such seasonal industries as fishing, lumbering, shipping and construction are to be included; and, if they are not included, what shall be done with their unemployed; and as to how the cost of a national system is to be fairly distributed over all sections of the population. In view of the complexity of the whole problem, the committee strongly urged members of the association to study it carefully during the coming year, particularly in its application to their various industries and also to localities in which they live."

FAVOR CONTRIBUTORY PLAN

Referring to the intimation that Dominion Government proposed in near future to assume a substantial larger proportion of the cost of age pensions, the committee felt to be an appropriate time to reiterate the view which the association took when this legislation was first introduced—that the sound type of legislation was not the contributory deserving-poor type, which no distinction was drawn between the poor and the non-poor, both alike were pensioned, provided they contributed.
